Before commencing the preparation of the Supplement to the Directory, the author was well aware that the undertaking would be a novel one, and liable to various objections; but from a belief that such a work was needed and would be of essential service to many of the citizens, and to strangers visiting the place, he has been encouraged to make the attempt. He now submits the work to the public, hoping it will meet the wishes of those for whose assistance it was particularly intended, and of the citizens generally.

The author tenders his thanks to those Ladies and Gentlemen, who have so readily aided in giving information, and so generously contributed towards the expenses of the work, by their subscriptions.

BENJAMIN FLOYD.

HISTORICAL & STATISTICAL SKETCH OF THE CITY OF LOWELL.

In 1652, about twenty persons from Woburn and Concord petitioned the General Court for liberty to examine a tract of land lying on the west side of Concord River. Having made the necessary examination, in company with about twenty others, they preferred a petition in 1653, for a grant of the land bordering on the Merrimack—near Pawtucket, in their petition they represent, that “there is a comfortable place to accommodate a company of God’s people upon, who may with God’s blessing, do good in that place for church & state.” They requested that the boundary of said land should commence at the junction of the Merrimack and the Concord rivers, and run six miles westerly on the Merrimack, and six miles southerly on Concord river—making a tract of about thirty-six square miles.—The tract petitioned for embraced what now constitutes Lowell and Chelmsford. The same year a petition on behalf of the Pawtucket Indians,— was presented by the Rev. John Elliott, of Roxbury, that the land lying about Pawtucket and Wamesit Falls should be appropriated exclusively to the use of the Indians. The petition stated that the Pawtuckets had occupied said ground, erected wigwams thereon, and prepared it in some measure for cultivation. To reconcile these conflicting interests, the Court granted to the petitioners from Woburn and Concord, the land requested, with exception of that part lying on the rivers, which was appropriated to the Indians.

The city of Lowell is now a part of the land granted at that time by an act of Court to the Pawtucket Indians, once the most powerful and chivalric tribe in the north of Massachusetts. The historian Gookin states, that "the tribe was almost wholly destroyed by the sickness in 1612 and '13 ; and at this day (1674) there are not above two hundred and fifty men, besides women and children. What this disease was that so generally and mortally swept away these and other Indians in New England, I cannot learn. Doubtless it was some pestilential disease. I have discoursed with some Indians, that were then youths, who say that their bodies were exceedingly yellow, before and after they died, describing it by a yellow garment they showed me."

Gookin says that he visited the Pawtucket Indians in company with Elliott, on the fifth of May, 1764, and that Elliott delivered a sermon to them that evening, from the 22d chapter of Mathew, from the 1st to the 14th verse. The meeting was held in Wanalancet's wigwam, near the Pawtucket Falls. By the influence of Elliott, a certain form of Courts was established among the Indians, at the sessions of which an English magistrate presided. The records of our early history show that the first court in Middlesex county was held near the junction of the Merrimack and Concord rivers, on the land through which the Boot canal now passes.

In 1726, Wamesit, as the Indian tract was called was annexed to the town of Chelmsford.

Tradition says that the house erected by the Indians for public worship, was built of logs and located on the high ground at the head of Appleton street.

As the English population increased here, the Indians decreased, till their number became very small, when they sold out their remaining lands, and removed to the north. Their last abiding place here, we are informed, was on Fort Hill, around which, portions of a trench dug by them are still visible.

THE TOWN OF LOWELL, as incorporated by an act of the Legislature, passed on the first day of March 1826, contained four square miles, and was formerly the northeastern section of the town of Chelmsford.—The Legislature in 1834, annexed Belvidere Village, the westerly corner of Tewksbury, to Lowell. This annexation extends the territory of Lowell to nearly five square miles.

The population of Lowell in 1820 was about 2000 ; in 1828, 3532 ; in 1830, 6477 ; in 1832, 10,254 ; in 1833, 12,363. The present population doubtless exceeds 18,000.

SKETCH OF LOWELL.

The first efforts to promote manufactures in this place, were made in 1813. In consequence of the restrictions that were laid on commerce, and of the war with Great Britain, the attention of many enterprising men was directed to domestic manufactures. Capt. Phineas Whiting and Capt. Josiah Fletcher, having selected an eligible site on Concord river, at the Wame-sit Falls, about a hundred rods from the Merrimack, erected at the expense of about $3000, a large wooden building for a cotton manufactory. In 1818, they sold their buildings and their right to the water power, to Mr Thomas Hurd. Mr Hurd afterwards fitted up the wooden factory and erected a large brick one, and several dwelling houses, and improved the same for fabricating woollen goods. The wooden factory was destroyed by fire on the 30th of June, 1826, but was rebuilt immediately after. Mr Hurd continued the business till the great pressure in 1828, when he was compelled to assign his property for the benefit of his creditors, and which was afterwards purchased by the Middlesex company.

About the year 1820, Messrs. Patrick T. Jackson, Nathan Appleton, and Kirk Boott, of Boston entered into a design to form a company for the purpose of manufacturing cotton goods, particularly calicoes.— They accordingly commenced an enquiry for a suitable water privilege. A large number of privileges were examined, and for various reasons, rejected. At length Mr Paul Moody, then connected with the manufacturing establishments at Waltham, while on a visit to his friends in Amesbury, met with Mr Worthen, a gentleman of taste, views and congenial to his own, to whom he mentioned that an extensive water privilege was wanted by the above named gentlemen. To whom Mr Worthen replied, "why do they not purchase the land around the Pawtucket Falls, in Chelmsford? They can put up as many works as they please there, and never want for water." This conversation resulted in a visit of these gentlemen to this place, and from observation they were both satisfied that the privilege was exactly what was wanted. The Pawtucket canal was immediately purchased by Messrs Jackson, Appleton and Boott. This canal was projected about the year 1790, and the proprietors were incorporated in 1792, by the name of "The Proprietors of the Locks and Canals on Merrimack river." It was opened for the purpose of facilitating the transportation of wood and lumber from the interior to Newburyport. It is about one mile and a half in length, had four sets of locks, and was built at an expense of $50,000. Its direction is nearly east, and it enters Concord river just above its junction with the Merrimack, where the water is thirty-two feet lower than at the head of the Pawtucket Falls.

It is worthy of remark, that a few years before the purchase was made by Messrs Appleton, Jackson and Boott, an engineer was sent to examine this place, by a number of gentlemen in Boston, who made a report that there was no water privilege here.

The company made the first purchase of real estate on the 2d of November 1821. They began their work about the 1st of April 1822. On the 10th of July they began to dig the canal broader and deeper, and let the water into it about the 1st of September, 1823. Five hundred men were constantly employed in digging and blasting. The gunpowder used in blasting, amounted to $6,000, at one shilling per pound. The whole expense of digging the canal was about $120,000. It is now sixty feet wide, has three sets of locks and the water in it is eight feet deep, and is calculated to supply about fifty mills. In digging this canal, ledges were found considerably below the old canal, which bore evident traces of its having once been the bed of the river. Many places were found worn into the ledge, as there usually are in falls, by stones kept constantly in motion by the water; some of these cavities were one foot or more in diameter and two feet deep.

The company was first incorporated by the name of the "Merrimack Manufacturing Company." In 1825, a new company was formed, called the "Proprietors of Locks and Canals on Merrimack river," to whom the Merrimack Manufacturing Company sold all the water privilege and all their real estate, together with the Machine Shop and its appurtenances, reserving water power sufficient for five factories and the Print works, and also the buildings occupied for boarding houses, and the land on which they are situated.

There are ten Houses for public worship in Lowell.
